Female consumer reports that the shoes are defective and the soles come off This has caused them...

Incident Description: Female consumer reports that the shoes are defective and the soles come off This has caused them to fall while wearing the shoes. The construction of the shoe could lead to injury.

Product: Footwear (1615)

Product Description: WMNS NIKE AIR VAPOR ADVANTAGE Model 599394 UPC 00888408050735 Nike has been making defective shows for many years. (in the case of these pink shoes costing over $ 100 they were only worn once!) They have caused me to not only fall on the tennis court on many occasions as the sole comes apart from the shoe... thus this could have caused serious injuries due to they faulty construction. This is not only older shoes but some new shoes..and not heavily worn shoes .Some were only worn once or twice and the rubber sole has come apart from the rest of the shoe. (I am happy to send pictures of nearly 12 pairs!) Last year in February I alerted your Customer Service department about defective 599364 shoes! At that at time I sent them 2 pairs of shoes that they deemed to not be Nike's fault. In addition , our representative seemed more than unconcerned about my safety or that of others while performing sports. His name was [REDACTED], Elite Services. In fact. I called him several months later and he never returned my phone call. Since contacting your unhelpful representative in February I have had 3 additional pairs of the 599364, 2 of which had only been worn twice, and a pair of your 487996 after only 3 wears. Not only is his extremely dangerous for falls and worse during play..but has now become very very costly! 599364. I now have 9 pairs! Which have fallen apart. 1) 599364- 607 pink worn 3 times...second pair bought 2) 487996-414 blue worn 3 times 3) 599364-410 blue only worn a few times Other pairs of 599364-106,607, 107,410,105 and 100 fell apart. Sadly I have tried contacting Nike's Executive office only to be thwarted away and not being able to speak to anyone..EVEN AN EXECUTIVE ASSISTANT. Nike seems to be not at all concerned with Customer Service or SAFETY! They should clearly be penalized for not only causing injuries, but for wearing "blinder's" when it comes to their products defective construction.

Product: Chairs, Other or Not Specified (4074)

Product Description: This is a chair used for sitting in front of a computer or desk. The chair has four wheels, and is made of black plastic. The seat is a very dark charcoal material with faint colored white speckles. The back part of the chair is made of the same material. The chair has a button on the right side that lets the chair go up and down. The chair seat part (the plastic that the seat sits on) measures approx 18.5" when measured from left to right, and measured towards the front. The backrest is 20 inches wide, and 19.5" high, again measuring just the plastic part. The part where the seat and the back is connected is 11" wide piece of molded plastic. The chair has arm rests that do not move and are triangular in shape. They are made of black plastic too. The chair was bought either in Staples or Office Max I think. The only markings I have on the chair are the UPC code: 7 69455 80306 1. Printed under the UPC code sticker is :OM-182 HX-3872TNA17P. Incident Description: Consumers found that ounces on formula bottles were not marked accurately. This lead to baby formula being more concentrated than intended. 1 MOF was injured from drinking formula and was seen by medical professional.

Product: Baby Bottles or Nipples (1509)

Product Description: bottles

Injury Info: Seen by Medical Professional

Manufacturer / Importer / Private Labeler: Luv n' care, Ltd

Business Comments: We keep our tolerances within 5%, and from the consumer's statement, it is possible that the difference is not related to our bottle but to her measuring cup. Also, one-half ounce more of water in the formula is not going to harm the baby. On July 17, 2012, I mailed a letter to the consumer along with a self-addressed, postage-paid envelope for the return of the bottle so that our engineers could examine and test the bottle to determine if the graduations were indeed incorrect. However,...

Incident Description: Consumer purchased gas grill and had to return it due to several of crossover channels falling off. Later, replacement grill did same thing. Consumer believes that this could lead to gas buildup and possible explosion.

Product: Gas or Lp Grills or Stoves (For Outdoor Use) (3248)

Product Description: I purchased Brinkmann 63,500 BTU 5-Burner Gas Grill with Side Burner, Red Sedona at our locale Wal Mart last April. By the first of August I had to return it due to several of the crossover channels just fell off. In December the replacement grill did the exact same thing. This is a very serious safety issue. If someone is paying attention and notice the other burners did not light it build up gas and explode. I have used Brinkmann products for many years but this is one of worst designs I have experienced with a Brinkmann product. I do expect to hear from you very soon. Product: Water Toys (1365)

Product Description: It's a green turtle approximately 3" long. It used to wind up, and spin it's front arms to swim. The front arms had holes in them, and its tag was attached through one of the holes when I bought it. The shell has a flower shape on the top. Some paint has worn off. I think it used to have white and black paint for the eyes. It was sold at Walmart, in a bin with orange fish that you could wind up to flip its tail. I bought it for 50 cents. It was sold to me by Walmart about a year ago. We found it here: <https://www.sciplus.com/windup-bath-and-pool-toys-66428-p>. Eschew Rubber Ducks is probably not the correct product name. I saw the frog and orange fish also for sale when the turtle was purchased.

The consumer, 53, experienced intense itching that would lead to sores all over...

Incident Description: The consumer, 53, experienced intense itching that would lead to sores all over her body after using household products containing Methylisothiazolinone or Methylchloro Glutaronitrile, including fabric softeners, laundry detergents, etc. Medical attention was sought.

Product: Fabric Treatment Products (952)

Product Description: In Jan 2016 I began to notice intense itching that would lead to sores all over my body. I began seeing doctors to find out what was wrong. After 7 doctors, numerous test & wrong diagnosis, I went to [REDACTED]. Finally, I discovered thru [REDACTED], that I am allergic to Methylisothiazolinone & Methylchloro Glutaronitrile. Trying to rid my life of products that contain these preservatives is proving to be difficult if not impossible. Even some of the prescription medicines that I had tried before the correct diagnosis contained Methylisothiazolinone. After switching brands of laundry detergent & discontinuing use of fabric softener that I have used for over 40 years, I found some relief. Then my grandson sat in my lap and hugged me and I had a very bad reaction and decided that it was from his clothes being washed with products that contained Methylisothiazolinone. Most shampoos, soaps, dishwashing liquid, laundry items, cosmetics, paints, etc contain these preservatives. My life is miserable - I can't sleep for itching. My skin is ugly and embarrassing. I was an attractive woman, & now I am ashamed of my skin. I always have sores & the medicine can only be used for 2 weeks at the time. While the medicine is helpful, it is not a cure all & I remain in agony. I urge, plead for the ban of these preservatives in the US as Europe has done. I wonder why this has become so wide spread in recent years. I can no longer use products that I have used all of my life. Please help!

Consumer reported that recently after filling fuel tank of UTV, gasoline began leaking quickly...

Incident Description: Consumer reported that recently after filling fuel tank of UTV, gasoline began leaking quickly from tank on ground below. It appears that seams where fuel tank was bonded together have separated causing fuel leak. This is safety issue as it could lead to a fire.

Product: Utility Vehicles (5044)

Product Description: 2010 Polaris Ranger RZR S

Injury Info: Incident, No Injury

Manufacturer / Importer / Private Labeler: Polaris Industries Inc.

Business Comments: The consumer has expressed concern over the fuel tank leaking at the mold seam of his 2010 RZR S. While Polaris agrees that this a serious issue that should be addressed immediately, Polaris cannot determine why the tank is leaking based on the limited information provided. Polaris previously denied warranty coverage on this 6 year old vehicle because the warranty had long since expired and the existence of a leak in the fuel tank after six years of use does not establish the existence...

58 YO Consumer reports that rear derailleur blew up on their bicycle under pressure. The product...

Incident Description: 58 YO Consumer reports that rear derailleur blew up on their bicycle under pressure. The product is a major hazard for bikers since falling parts could jam back wheel & lead to an accident. There's pin inside the product that routinely has failed for many bikes. No Injuries.

Product: Bicycles and Accessories, (Excl.mountain or All-terrain) (5040)

Product Description: SRAM Red 10 Speed Rear Derailleur is used to shift the rear gears of a road bicycle.

Injury Info: Incident, No Injury

Manufacturer / Importer / Private Labeler: SRAM LLC

Business Comments: SRAM takes product safety issues very seriously. SRAM has been in touch with this consumer to confirm the details of the incident. Consumer did not submit a warranty claim with SRAM. However, based on the photo provided, SRAM believes that the rear derailleur was simply worn out due to wear and tear after 10 years of use. SRAM does not see any evidence of manufacturing defect. Furthermore, periodic maintenance of consumer's derailleur would show wear or symptoms before experiencing a total...

Incident Description: 25 YOF reports that the portable electric heater's cord became very hot during use and was hot over a food down the cord from the plug. The heat caused the electrical outlet to melt. Consumer noticed a burning smell and smoke filled the room and turned off and unplugged unit.

Product: Portable Electric Heaters (348)

Product Description: EdenPure GEN4 MODEL Serial #: CH00247896 Quartz infrared portable heater

Injury Info: Incident, No Injury

Manufacturer / Importer / Private Labeler: EdenPure

Business Comments: The power cord on the EdenPure U.S. Gen 4 Heater could melt or get hot if the cord is plugged into a loose fitting wall receptacle. It can also be caused by overloading the circuit with more appliances than recommended, using an unapproved extension cord, plug adapter, or power strip. The EdenPure U.S. Gen 4 Heater should only be used if it is plugged into an electrical outlet that provides a snug and secure fit. A loose fit between the AC outlet (receptacle) and the plug may cause...

Incident Description: 62 YOM reported that while using corn popper, as they turned it over & lifted base from bowl, heated plate fell away, leaving popcorn to fall into heating element. Fire ensued, spreading across counter. They were able to extinguish it. He indicated that unit is flimsy.

Product: Electric Corn Poppers (212)

Product Description: We received the Throwback Quartz Popcorn maker from Williams Sonoma on April 9. Using it last night, as we turned the popper over and lifted the base from the bowl, the heated plate fell away (it's intended to be separated), leaving popcorn to fall into the heating element. A fire quickly ensued, spreading across the counter. We were fortunate in that the fire didn't reach other flammables in the kitchen before we were able to extinguish it. This seems to be a serious (and dangerous) design flaw. I'd also add that the popper is surprisingly flimsy, with the popping base handles subject to bending and twisting - which would keep the plate from fitting back into the heater base...which could lead to additional risk.

Business Comments: The consumer submitting this report is not identified in the report and no file with circumstances fitting those briefly described in the report could be located so determination of a specific cause of the fire reported in this instance is not possible. Fires in ovens happen due to a variety of reasons and the fire, but not the smoke, is contained by the oven. There is no history of switch arcing causing a wiring fire in these appliances.

Product: Footwear (1615)

Product Description: Skidders Shoes are designed and manufactured with your child's safety in mind. The Skidders web shop mySkidders.com offers a breadth of products that will put you at ease when your little boy or girl is running around the house. Whether you are looking for Skidders Kids Shoes to protect little feet when playing outdoors or want to find Skidders Kids Socks to protect feet for indoor play, you will find that all the Skidders footwear products are quality made and designed to compliment any outfit. With Skidders Shoes and Skidders Socks, each step can be taken with confidence! Innovative and hassle-free, Skidders introduces a new way to wear a sock and a shoe, all in one. The Skidders Shoe is an amazing product for kids playing indoors and outdoors, featuring a full rubber outsole for enhanced traction and protection. The Skidders Shoe also has an insole for added comfort and the soft knit material that allows kids the freedom of movement. The Skidders Sock is also an amazing and original product for kids playing indoors on tile surfaces or hardwood floors. As compared to other brands that have simple dots on the bottom of their socks, Skidders Socks combine a two step process of fusing gripper material onto the entire bottom of the sock and then detailing it with our unique gripper design. It is a sure bet that your little boy or little girl will be walking and running around safe and sound. So let kids be kids and send them off on their indoor adventures wearing skid-proof Skidders Kids Socks and Skidders Kids Shoes. Let your child move freely and confidently without worrying about slipping or falling! We hear parents tell us often that their kids say "I love my Skidders" and that means we're making great products. Bright, fun and full of life our Skidders Shoes and Skidders Socks are a perfect match for your child's personality. With Skidders Shoes, a durable, non-slip outsole and cushioned insole will comfort and protect your child's feet during indoor and outdoor adventures. You will appreciate the pull-on design for easy on-and-off ability and your kids will appreciate the effortless cool look that Skidders provide. Your toddlers will have miles of style walking in Skidders Kids Shoes and enjoy the stability, flexibility, and traction that little walkers and runners need. The Skidders product offering has expanded to meet customer feedback. We received nearly 1,000 emails of parents who loved Skidders for their kids but wished that we made Skidders in larger sizes. We now offer Skidders Gripper Socks for Women! We developed a super soft sock and detailed the bottom with a beautiful grip design so women can walk safely indoors on hardwood floors or tile surfaces. We listened to our loyal fans and developed many more products, for kids and adults. Skidders also has a few products coming soon to mySkidders web shop, such as Skidders Gripper Knee Pads to help propel crawling babies forward with confidence, and Skidders Gripper Tights for toddler girls to wear around the house with worrying about slipping and falling on wood or tile floors. Skidders is also an authorized licensee of Nickelodeon's Dora, Diego and Spongebob Squarepants, HIT's Thomas the Tank and all of MLB's Major League Baseball franchised teams! Skidders is also under contract to license many more global brands, so keep checking our Skidders web shop at mySkidders.com for more product introductions. The Skidders Footwear company is a skid-proof footwear specialist and we will continue to develop and innovate new products all the time. So keep a lookout for more Skidders!

Incident Description: TeaKettle with Copper Bottom was left on stove too long. bottom overheated & inside layer portion of bottom had melted. Overheated kettle was moved & spilled out liquid metal on stovetop & floor. 48 yof got 2nd degree burns on her toes when stepped on metal splashing on floor

Product: Unpowered Coffee Makers or Teapots (405)

Product Description: Bon Jour 2-Quart Stainless Steel Tea Kettle with Copper Bottom was left on the stove too long. Link to the model on Amazon. Our purchase was from a local kitchen supply store. http://www.amazon.com/BonJour-2-Quart-Stainless-Kettle-Copper/dp/B002LGFF6U/ref=cm_rdp_product_img This model kettle does not have any whistle and the water boiled all out. The bottom overheated and the inside layer (lead? Tin?) portion of the bottom, between the copper cladding and the steel body and inside bottom had melted. The copper cladding failed when the over heated kettle was moved and spilled out liquid metal onto the stovetop and splashed onto the floor near the stove. The person who moved the overheated kettle also got some second degree burns on the bottom of a couple of toes as they moved away and stepped on a metal splashing on the floor. The stove and the burner had quenched metal on various portions, but did not appear to suffer any real damage. The linoleum floor has some scorched marks where the metal splashed. The concern here is the low temp metals used as a heat sink in the base of the kettle that liquified with just stove top temperatures. Combined with the rupture of the copper cladding, this created a very hazardous situation. There was no indication of this other lower melting point metals beyond the steel and copper components on the literature we had for this item.

Incident Description: A 47 YOF heated a buckwheat neck pillow in microwave & put the heated pillow around her neck & later on her feet & enjoyed the feeling. She left the bed room & smelled something & came back & saw pillow had smoldered through comforter into mattress & mattress caught fire.

Product: Pillows (4050)

Product Description: Neck Pillow Organic Buckwheat Hulls Scented with Lavender Buds, Soft Fill Product description This travel/neck pillow is made with the softest fleece fabric and is filled with organic buckwheat hulls and lavender buds. It weighs just over 1.6 lbs and measures 33" tip to tip, 6" deep at the neck, 4" wide at the base of the arms, 4" deep overall and the neck space stretches to 7" due to the flexibility of the fleece. These hand-made high quality pillows may vary in size slightly. Great for children and adults, this pillow cradles flopping heads at home, in the stroller, in the car, on an airplane or anywhere. Kids love the scrunchy sound and huggable feel of buckwheat hulls and fleece. Buckwheat hulls allow constant air circulation through the pillow, keeping you cool and dry. Care must be given if heating hulls as they dry out over time. Those with allergies to feathers or synthetics will appreciate buckwheat hulls' hypo-allergenic nature. Unlike other pillow fillings, buckwheat hulls do not compress under pressure. This reduces stress on your head and neck. Best of all, our buckwheat is 100% organic, natural and eco-friendly. This pillow is soft-fill and has fewer buckwheat hulls which makes for a softer feel behind your neck or the small of your back. When I tried just now to upload a supporting document to Saferproducts.gov, the proxy server timed out twice. So please download my supporting document from Google Docs using this link (or you can just read the document online without downloading it): <https://docs.google.com/document/d/1mijyKlWbWuoTx4FYi8ioAtaV3o0H7sN4VPROVe6YIYs/edit?usp=sharing> COMPLAINT AGAINST TAKETWOPILLOWS I am seeking to have the TakeTwoPillows compelled to stop selling a specific buckwheat pillow that ended up causing a mattress fire in my home on Friday 03/02/2017. I purchased the pillow on Amazon.com on January 5, 2018 from a vendor called TakeTwoPillows. While I do not think there is anything necessarily corrupt or fraudulent about TakeTwoPillows.com, this particular product is dangerously defective. The pillow is called "Neck Pillow Organic Buckwheat Hulls Scented with Lavender Buds, Soft Fill ". The amazon product page for this pillow is here: https://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B007PCC4ZA/ref=oh_aui_detailpage_o05_s02?ie=UTF8&psc=1 This is a Youtube Playlist showing how the above pillow caused a fire in my home: <https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PLBEoLcEeONweeBkKzawWgCYTIOb0eGqcc> THIS PILLOW IS DANGEROUS AND SHOULD NOT BE SOLD ANYWHERE. HERE IS WHAT HAPPENED: Put pillow in microwave Took pillow out of microwave Put pillow around neck Enjoyed the feeling of pillow around neck, no burning, no overheating Got in bed for the night Decided feet were cold Took pillow off neck and placed at bottom of the bed to head feet Enjoyed feet feeling heated Acknowledged restlessness Got up and got on computer in different room Smelled something in bedroom Came back to see smoke coming up from the place on the bed where pillow was Threw back comforter to see pillow had smoldered up through the comforter and Down into the futon mattress The mattress smoldered and caught fire Luckily I pulled it out to my balcony before it caught fire. LET ME REITERATE THAT THE PILLOW, DIRECTLY FROM THE MICROWAVE, WAS PLACED AROUND MY NECK WITH NO DISCOMFORT. If the pillow is not too hot to be applied to skin, how in the world is the consumer suppose to know that the pillow will, without additional microwave time, grow hot enough to smolder through a mattress and cause a fire? The TakeTwoPillows.com URL leads to the company's storefront on Amazon.com. Consumer's light fixture cannot have all types of light bulbs because the fixture does not pass...

Incident Description: Consumer's light fixture cannot have all types of light bulbs because the fixture does not pass a certain temperature test. There is no heat shielding of any kind on the base plate. Gauge of metal is very thin and warps easily. Consumer feels this is a very serious hazard.

Product: Electric Chandeliers or Other Attached Light Fixtures (628)

Product Description: To Whom it May Concern, I am writing you in regards to a LED Ceiling Fixture that I believe could be a potential fire hazard (see attached pictures). Upon inspecting this fixture, the first things I noticed are: 1. No heat shielding of any kind on the base plate 2. Gauge of metal on base plate is very thin, warps easily 3. Very little heat shielding on the wires Typically on a E26 base ceiling fixture you would see heat shielding on at least one side of the base and all the way down the wires. I have to think that other manufacturers would not incur the additional costs of heat shielding unless it was required. The fixture is certified by ETL to UL1598 standard (see attached Ceiling Fixture portion of UL1598). I work in the lighting industry and know a little bit about UL1598. My understanding of UL1598 as it pertains to flush mounted, totally enclosed ceiling fixtures, such as this, is below. If the fixture has: 1. GU24 sockets installed to accept GU24 base CFL's, it is not subject to an additional 90 degree Celsius heat test because the end user cannot install incandescent bulbs into the fixture. 2. E26 screw in sockets installed to accept any standard E26 bulb. Even though the fixture comes with LED bulbs, it is subject to an additional 90 degree Celsius heat test. If the fixture heats up to 90 degrees Celsius, or above, where it mounts to the ceiling, it will not pass the UL1598 standard. This additional testing is due to the possibility of the end user being able to install incandescent bulbs, which operate at much higher heat levels than LED's, and may become a fire hazard. The fact that this fixture does not have any heat shielding on the base plate, and very little on the wires, leads me to believe that it definitely would not pass the 90 degree Celsius testing. If my understanding of this requirement is incorrect in any way, clarification on your part would be greatly appreciated. Regarding the ceiling fixture in question; I was able to find the ETL certification on Intertek's website under the factory's name, Bright Lighting and Electric Appliance Co., LTD. - Dongguan, Guangdong China. I understand that Intertek has certified this product to meet UL1598 standards. My question is: • Is it possible that this fixture could have been certified to UL1598 standards using the requirements for ceiling fixtures with GU24 base bulbs? Essentially being granted certification while bypassing the heat test requirement. I ask this because the GU24 CFL version of this fixture has been very popular for the last few years. However, a manufacturer may not change something on a fixture and use the same certification. If a manufacturer changes just one item on the fixture (GU24 to E26 sockets), it must go through a new round of testing and receive a new certification stating that it complies with all specs using the new E26 sockets. I have seen other ceiling fixtures on the Consumer Product Safety Commission's website be recalled in the past due to fire hazard from no heat shielding on wires. (see the below links) <https://www.cpsc.gov/Recalls/2013/Ceiling-Mounted-Light-Fixtures-Recalled-by-Dolan-Designs> <https://www.cpsc.gov/Recalls/2012/Ceiling-Mounted-Light-Fixtures-Recalled-by-Thomas-Lighting-Due-to-Fire-and-Shock-Hazards> After further review of this product; if, it does not meet UL1598 standards for E26 based LED ceiling fixtures, what steps will the Consumer Product Safety Commission take to rectify the situation? I am writing this with the position of safety being the utmost importance. This fixture is currently being widely used in a major California utility ESA program. Approximately 30,000 of these units have already been installed in low income homes. Nobody would like to see damages or injuries come from the use of this product. Thank you in advance for your time and consideration on this matter. I look forward to your response.

Misting Pump inside greenhouse began operating erratically, turning on & off. Inspection showed...

Incident Description: Misting Pump inside greenhouse began operating erratically, turning on & off. Inspection showed bottom panel of the enclosure had melted from heat. Pump motor is through bolted to bottom panel & protrudes through panel to outside. These bolts & panel are exposed to user.

Product: Pumps, Not Elsewhere Classified (1462)

Product Description: 1000 psi misting pump. Motor and pump assembly are housed in an aluminum framed enclosure with white plastic panels on all six sides. 13.5"x9"x9". Small water filter and inlet/outlet fittings are located on one end. Opposite end has a toggle switch and a power cord. There are four rubber feet on the bottom of the enclosure that are 1" tall. 110vac. Product is used to pressurize a mist cooling system inside an enclosed greenhouse. Additional information: Closer inspection of the unit shows the original motor nameplate had been removed and replaced with a handwritten nameplate from Mistcooling.com. This nameplate identifies Mistcooling.com as the manufacturer of the motor which is unlikely. Most of the information required by the NEC is missing from this nameplate. See: NEMA MG1. Removal of the original motor nameplate leads to the suspicion that this motor is not approved for use in the U.S. Unit came with no documentation regarding safe use or warnings.

Incident Description: 59 YOF Consumer reports that she ordered gloves that were advertised as latex-free and powder-free as she has an allergy to latex. Within an hour of use her hands were red and itchy. The reaction progressed to her forearms with edema and pain. Health hazard

Product: Clothing Accessories (1647)

Product Description: Corestar Gloves UPC 7 39210 34361 3 Model Re-Order #: SF-3400L (written on box) Ordered through Amazon.com PRIME. Product is listed as "The Essential Goods Disposable Clear Vinyl Glove/Large Size/100 count/Non-Latex Powder-Free Ultra Strong Non-sterile" for home, office, kitchen use. Described as puncture free and safe for use for those with latex and powder allergy. I have a latex allergy. Box states "MADE IN CHINA" There is a white sticker with barcode #X002HZKPL on the box. When I peeled the label back it revealed another barcode #39210 34361, Purchased on Amazon.com 12/24/2020. Used it for the first time 4/29/2021. Only had it on for about 1 hour doing light housekeeping/cleaning. When I removed the gloves, my hands were reddened where the gloves were on. It continued over the next 12 hours to get redder, itchy and swollen. The redness and swelling progressed up to mid forearm on both arms. I had immediately washed my hands after taking off the gloves but there must have been some allergen present in the glove (latex?) that caused this severe allergic reaction. I ended up going to Urgent Care, placed on Triamcinolone and Clabetasol high steroid topicals, oral antihistamines, and underwent IV infusions of both [REDACTED] (steroid) and Diphenhydramine (antihistamine) to control the allergic reaction. I was also prescribed an epi-pen (to be used if I should go into anaphylactic shock) which cost me $118 not covered by my insurance. I was in pain from the acute swelling. Hands looked like I had boxing gloves on. I was also in emotional distress. I contacted Amazon.com and all they did was apologize and give me a $10 gift certificate with my next order for "any inconvenience" I experienced. I requested that they do more quality control of their products, as someone with an allergy to latex and glove powder like I do should not have to go through this. I suggested that they stop this vendor from claiming that the product is latex-free and powder-free as it obviously is not, which is false advertisement and could lead to possible death if the reaction is severe enough. As of this writing, August 25, 2021, the skin on my hands continues to slough off. My allergist and dermatologist both told me this may continue on for months as it was a severe allergic reaction. This has been going on since April 29, 2021.
